The overwhelming number of papers submitted and the superb quality of them made the selection of papers difficult. All who submitted a paper should be commended on the quality of work they are producing. We would have loved to include them all in Historical Perspectives. However, we think the papers included in this issue represent the best historical work this year. This issue was made possible through the cooperation of Jennifer Skyles and Christine Cooper. Special thanks goes to Professor Istvan Mocsy for the final revisions.
